FOREWORD

This bibliography of unclassified titles covers combat support with an emphasis on artillery in battle. No attempt toward further dividing this by combat arm, i.e., armor, infantry, field artillery, has been made.

This number is arranged alphabetically by author. Inclusion of an item, or omission, does not imply USAFAS indorsement or sanction of the compiler's point-of-view nor does it guarantee accuracy of content. Comment and criticism concerning this list is solicited.

LESTER L. MILLER JR.
Supervisory Librarian

"Infantry, cavalry and artillery, can never do without each other; they should, therefore, be so cantoned as always to aid one another in case of surprise," and,

"The fate of a battle is the result of an instant of thought; the armies approach with various combination, join battle, fight for a certain time, the decisive moment arrives, one moral spark gives the word and the smallest reserve carries it out."
